On Wednesday 16th February over 200 teams will be making a 4,000 mile trip from the South coast of Britain to the West coast of Africa in left hand drive bangers to raise money for charities both at home and in Africa. trakm8 are sponsoring Declan Hicks from Gillingham, Dorset on his 4 week adventure and will be updating you on his progress for the duration.

Declan reached Banjul on the Western Coast of Africa this morning. After long periods with no contact due to the lack of mobile phone coverage, we have received an update from his vehicle showing that he has reached his destination after nearly a month of travelling.
